

Who should use this form?

This form should be used by persons wishing to propose applicants under the Refugee and Special Humanitarian Programme, including those eligible under the 'split family' provisions that apply to immediate family members.*

Proposals may be submitted by individuals or by organisations operating in Australia. To be eligible to propose as an individual, you must be:

- an Australian citizen; or
- a permanent resident of Australia; or
- an eligible New Zealand citizen.

You must not be an illegal maritime arrival who arrived on or after 13 August 2012. More information is available on the Department of Immigration and Border Protection (the department) website www.immi.gov.au/visas/humanitarian/offshore/how-propose.htm.

If you are eligible to propose, you will also need form 842 Application for an Offshore Humanitarian visa to be completed by the visa applicant and submitted together with this form.

This form must not be used for applications under the Community Proposal Pilot.

About this form

Important – Please read this information carefully before you complete your proposal. Once you have completed your proposal we strongly advise that you keep a copy for your records.

What is required of proposers?

If you are proposing applicants who are granted a subclass 202 (Global Special Humanitarian) visa you and the applicants are responsible for the applicants' travel to Australia, including airfares.

If you are proposing applicants under the 'split family' provisions, and any of the following visa subclasses are granted:

- 200 – Refugee;
- 201 – In-country Special Humanitarian;
- 203 – Emergency Rescue;
- 204 – Woman at Risk;

the Australian Government will arrange and pay for the applicants' travel to Australia.

An 'applicant' who is granted a visa and travels to Australia, becomes an 'entrant' on arrival.

* Under the 'split family' provisions, holders of humanitarian (Class XB), or permanent Protection (Class XA) or Resolution of Status (Class CD) visas, may support the applications of immediate family members to enter Australia under the Humanitarian Programme. 'Immediate family' means the spouse or de facto partner (including same-sex partner), dependent child, or parent (if the proposer is under 18 years of age).

Your role as a proposer is to assist in the settlement of the entrants you have proposed. This includes:

- meeting the entrants at the airport;
- providing accommodation for the entrants on arrival;
- assisting the entrants to find permanent accommodation; and
- introducing the entrants to relevant services.

The Department of Social Services (DSS) provides settlement services to humanitarian entrants. A Humanitarian Settlement Services (HSS) service provider will contact you to settle those you have proposed.

After a visa has been granted

If the people you are proposing are granted a humanitarian visa before they leave for Australia, please encourage them to attend:

- the Australian Cultural Orientation Programme (AUSCO). AUSCO courses prepare participants for their life in Australia. More information is available on the Department of Social Services website www.dss.gov.au; and
- a departure health check (DHC). Visa holders undergo a health check within 72 hours of departure for Australia to ensure they are 'fit to fly' and to identify any medical conditions requiring treatment on arrival in Australia.

Integrity of application

The department is committed to maintaining the integrity of the visa and citizenship 2. Please be aware that if you or the person you are proposing provide us with fraudulent documents or information, this may result in processing delays and possibly the application being refused.

Immigration assistance

A person gives immigration assistance to you if he or she uses, or claims to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist you with your visa application, request for ministerial intervention, cancellation review application, sponsorship or nomination.

In Australia a person may only lawfully give immigration assistance if he or she is a registered migration agent or is exempt from being registered. Only registered migration agents may receive a fee or reward for providing immigration assistance.

If an unregistered person in Australia, who is not exempt from registration, gives you immigration assistance they are committing a criminal offence and may be prosecuted.

Migration agents in Australia

Migration agents in Australia must be registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (Office of the MARA) unless they are exempt from registration.

Migration agents outside Australia

Migration agents who operate outside Australia do not have to be registered. The department may give some overseas agents an ID number. This number does not mean that they are registered.

Note: Some Australian registered migration agents operate overseas.

Migration agent information

A migration agent is someone who can:

- advise you on the visa that may best suit you;
- tell you the documents you need to submit with your application;
- help you fill in the application and submit it; and
- communicate with the department on your behalf.

If you appoint a migration agent, the department will assume that your migration agent will be your authorised recipient, unless you indicate otherwise.

Your migration agent will be the person with whom the department will discuss your proposal and from whom it will seek further information when required.

You are not required to use a migration agent. However, if you use a migration agent, the department encourages you to use a registered migration agent. Registered agents are bound by the Migration Agents Code of Conduct, which requires them to act professionally in their clients' lawful best interests.

Information on migration agents, including a list of registered migration agents, is available on the Office of the MARA website www.mara.gov.au

You can also access information about migration agents on the department's website www.immi.gov.au

Exempt persons

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent in order to provide immigration assistance, but they must not charge a fee for their service:

- a close family member (spouse, de facto partner, child, parent, brother or sister);
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- an official whose duties include providing immigration assistance (eg. a Legal Aid provider);
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

Appointing a migration agent/exempt person

To appoint a migration agent/exempt person you should complete Part F – Options for receiving written communications.

Your migration agent/exempt person should complete form 956 Advice by a migration agent/exempt person of providing immigration assistance.

Form 956 is available from the department's website www.immi.gov.au/allforms/

Options for receiving written communications

If you do not appoint a migration agent/exempt person you may still authorise another person, in writing, to receive written communications on your behalf. This person is called the authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

All written communication about your proposal will be sent to your authorised recipient, unless you indicate that you wish to have health and/or character information sent directly to you.

The department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any time for a particular purpose.

You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

To appoint an authorised recipient you should complete:

- Part F – Options for receiving written communications; and
- form 956A Appointment or withdrawal of an authorised recipient.

Note: Being a proposer does not authorise you to receive written communications on behalf of the visa applicants you are proposing. If the visa applicants wish you to receive written correspondence on their behalf, the main applicant must complete Question 17 and Question 46 on form 842 Application for an Offshore Humanitarian visa.

Note: Migration agents/exempt persons do not need to complete form 956A.

Form 956A is available from the department's website www.immi.gov.au/allforms/

Consent to communicate electronically

The department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process the application the department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with.

If you agree to the department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on form 956 or 956A to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

Note: Electronic communication is the fastest means of communication available and the department prefers to communicate electronically because this results in faster processing.

Important information about privacy

Your personal information is protected by law, including the Privacy Act 1988. Important information about the collection, use and disclosure (to other agencies and third parties, including overseas entities) of your personal information, including sensitive information, is contained in form 1442i Privacy notice. Form 1442i is available from the department's website www.immi.gov.au/allforms/ or offices of the department.
